

1. How to Search

Setting a keyword and selecting a value in RESEARCH FOCUS, ICH GENRE and SUB-REGION means AND search, which means data that includes all conditions is hit.

Keywords

Keywords target the following information.

For Publications: title of publication, publisher, summary, research focus, ICH genre and country

For Institutions: name of institution, abbreviation of institution, research focus, ICH genre and country

For Researchers: name of researcher, title of publication, research focus, ICH genre and country

- Partial match search

Data that includes the keywords is hit.

Example

Keywords: "ed"

Results: data that includes "ed", such as "edu", "education", "red"

- Not case-sensitive

Do not distinguish upper case letter and lower case letter.

Example

Keywords: Environment, environment

Results: same data is hit

- Multiple keywords

Choose either "AND" or "OR" box below the keyword box.

AND search

Data that contains all keywords is hit

Example

Keywords: education culture

Results: data that contains both “education” and “culture”

Or search

Data that contains at least one keyword is hit

Example

Keywords: indigenous knowledge

Results: data that contains either “indigenous” or “knowledge”

RESEARCH FOCUS

Select a value from the pulldown menu.

ICH GENRE

Select a value from the pulldown menu.

SUB-REGION

Select a value from the pulldown menu.

2. Search Result

- Sort

Select any header on the top to sort ascending or descending.

Change ascending/descending every time headers are selected.

- Display

Click “Show more” to display all data matched.

Click again to display the default number of data.